

EMMA GOLDMAN GIVEN DINNER BY 300 BRITONS

Debates That if She Ever Returns to America, it Will Be on Her Own Terms—Promises to Fight for Liberty

GREATLY PRAISED

Called "One of Foremost Friends of Freedom in World"—Predicts Great Changes in United States

(By the Associated Press)

London, Nov. 12.—Emma Goldman, who was deported from the United States in 1919 as an undesirable alien and now seeks asylum in England, was welcomed by 300 Britons to their country at a dinner given in her honor tonight. Miss Goldman spent a considerable part of her exile in Russia, and tonight she eloquently excoriated Russia's Soviet government. She also declared that if she ever went back to the United States it would be on her own terms.

The oppressed masses in Russia, she said, were being silenced, as they never were under the czar, and all ideals had been discredited by the ruling forces in that country. Bolshevism she characterized as an international disease, and she promised to fight hereafter, where she might be, for the principles of liberty, which were the most essential things in human life.

The dinner at which she spoke was presided over by Colonel Josiah Wedgwood, a member of the cabinet in the late Labor government, and tribute was paid to her in speeches by Bertrand Russell, pacifist, who called her one of the foremost friends of freedom in the world, and Rebecca West, the writer, who praised her courage in "climbing down" after she had been disillusioned in her two years stay in Russia.

What Are Privileges Without Liberty.

"We are very grateful to America," remarked Miss West, "for the loan of Emma Goldman."

"A cable came tonight," said Miss Goldman, "from the head immigration commissioner of the United States, which says a man who came from the United States forever. Forever is a long time, and it shows that the authorities in the United States are just as stupid as they were when I left, five years ago."

"I have not made any attempt to return to America, but I have been reproached more than once by representatives of the United States government, as to whether I would like to go back to the United States on certain terms."

"They don't know Emma Goldman. If I go back to the United States, I will demand that all political deportees have a right to return there. If I ever go back to the United States, it will be on my own terms. I think there is going to be a change in the United States, too, some day, just as there will be elsewhere. It may not be in my life time—but what difference does it make whether I go back, or others? Some day it will be a noble place, where all will work for the good of their fellow men. There will be real freedom, economic, social, and humanitarian freedom, the most valuable thing in the world. What are privileges if you do not have liberty?"

NAVY PREPARES TO SINK SHIP AND ANSWER SUIT

Washington, Nov. 12.—The government prepared today to answer the suit of William B. Shearer, New York, to prevent the sinking of the uncompleted battleship Washington in naval tests and at the same time went ahead with plans to carry out the tests by ordering five naval tugs to Philadelphia for the purpose of towing the battleship to a point off the Virginia capes.

Declaration that the United States is required under the arms limitation treaty to destroy the battleship made in a draft of the government's reply to Shearer's suit. Secretary Wilbur will be represented by Attorney General Stone when the suit is called in the supreme court of the District of Columbia Friday.

The draft of the reply as approved by Secretary Wilbur holds that the navy department has every right to dispose of the ship by gun and mining tests, as proposed, or in any manner considered of experimental value.

PAPYRUS CONTAINING VERSES OF BIBLE FOUND IN LONDON

London, Nov. 12.—A crumpled leaf of papyrus, believed to date from about 200 A. D., upon which is written more than 20 verses of the 16th chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew, was discovered recently by H. I. Bell, an expert of the British museum, while sorting a collection of papers consisting of 355 items destined for the library of the University of Michigan. The text is substantially complete, except at the bottom of the leaf, where a corner had been torn off.

The passage commences with the words thus translated in the King James version, verse 12: "For Jesus had appointed them, and they made ready for the passage." The incomplete line at the end contains the words from verse 22, "shall perish with the sword." The passage is of interest to all denominations because of its account of the last supper and the betrayal.

CIBER VICTIMS TOTAL 18.
Lunchburg, Va., Nov. 12.—The 18th victim of the Ciber, a gas explosion, died today, bringing the total to 18. The number of victims of poison gas in the Ciber is the eighth number of the commission.

PRINCES IN GERMANY
MADE HAPPY BY WORKDisposition of Property of Former Kaiser is Still an Open Question.

Berlin.—The last ten years in Germany has deprived many a prince of his income and sent him out to make a living along with the rest of the world. Not a few of the nobility, particularly among the younger generation, have said they were happier and more contented with life generally since they went to work than they were when they had nothing to do but count their income and look for thrills in sports, society or military maneuvers.

What the republic is to do with the property that once belonged to former Emperor William is still an open question. He possessed large estates in Brandenburg, Pomerania, Posen, Silesia and West Prussia, and other assets, which have been appraised at $40,000,000, all of which he lost when he fled to Holland in 1918. His income today is relatively modest.

The castles, picture galleries and other valuable collections regarded as the property of the old dynasty were taken over by the state. A number of the princes, however, brought suit to retain their holdings, and have regained title to some of the properties which were confiscated when the republic became a reality.

It has been estimated that the former king of Saxony, Friedrich August, was a loser to the extent of $6,000,000. The Saxon diet now gives him $50,000 a year.

Other rich noblemen who today are living on greatly reduced incomes are the grand duke of Saxony-Weimar, the king of Wurtemberg, the grand duke of Oldenburg, and the prince of Schaumburg-Lippe.

Adam Walsh, another one of the fifty college captains who play the snapper-back position, is one of the greatest centers in the entire country. His work in the Notre Dame-Army game was marvelous, and though his hand was badly injured, he carried on until forced to retire after being "out cold" two or three times. Notre Dame has more than a wonderful backfield — it has Adam Walsh, an game a player as ever lived.

Dunkirk, Nov. 12.—Fred Paitz, 12-year-old schoolboy, was probably fatally burned in his home here Tuesday. He returned from school during his mother's absence from home, attempted to pour some coffee from a pot on the stove, and was caught in a flare of flame from the gas burner.

The "tumunoh" cultivates certain plants in an isolated spot where the temperature is relatively uniform, and from the condition of these plants he claims to tell the exact date of the month or year. He knows that 365 days a year is not exactly correct when a leap year comes around, but he keeps silent and does not tell his people about the extra day.

The "tumunoh" advises the people of the date to begin planting and the date to start the harvest.

CHILDREN'S

Illustration of a child's face with a thoughtful expression.

THE eyesight of your children is a practical matter that should engage your immediate and earnest attention. If their vision is incorrect it will interfere with their conception of the world they are examining with so much curiosity. If their near sight is affected they cannot learn their daily lessons. Have their eyes examined.

LOCAL NEWS

The highway gang on the different sections of state roads in Oneonta finished their work for the season yesterday, and last night laid off until next spring.

The Rotary luncheon at the Elks' club house today is announced as a double-header and a dark secret. Therefore every member who wants to get twice his money's worth should attend.

The Main street bridge over the Susquehanna River was opened last evening for one way traffic, but will be closed today from 8 o'clock until evening so that the work may be completed, according to J. A. Conklin, who is in charge of the work.

The fireproof safe and steel filing equipment purchased by the city for the city offices in the Municipal building from Moore's Corner book store is nearly placed and much satisfaction is felt among city officials due to the safe condition of the city records.

WIDENING WALL STREET

Preparatory to Acceptance by City
Authorities as Thoroughfare.

Workmen of the city department of the streets have been at work for the past two days widening Wall street near its intersection with Chestnut. The Oneonta Building & Loan Association has deeded to the city a strip having a frontage on Chestnut of 11 feet and tapering down to nothing at the rear. The excavating necessary has been done and today the men will lay a retaining wall next to the B. & L. building. Later it is expected that the street near the wall will be concreted. One tree has been removed and it will be necessary to move the fire hydrant at this location, which also will probably be done today.

This work has been taken in anticipation of the early acceptance of the street as one of the thoroughfares of the city. F. H. Bresce having long been desirous of releasing the property which he owns, to the city, now being used for street purposes. There is no present intention of accepting the proposal made by Mr. Swart for the further widening of the street on the Windsor hotel side.

The organization also voted to take care of some family at Christmas time, the intent being to supply some needy family with a tree and presents, including some articles to go.

At the conclusion of the meeting, those present went to the home of Mrs. Flurrie Judd, 3 Franklin street, where refreshments were served.

All men of the church having sons are invited to come and bring them. Twenty Canvassers Reporting Yesterday Bring Total In Red Cross Roll Call to $1,000.

Approximately one-quarter of the minimum necessary amount required was reported in the second day of the Red Cross roll call. Just 518 members have joined for the new year and the total amount is $1,062.75, of which $259 goes to national headquarters and $803.75 is for use in all the activities of the local chapter. The number of canvassers reporting yesterday was about the same as on the previous day, 29, the membership slightly less in number but the total amount approximately the same. Of those reporting, ten had previously reported, so that the figures cover only 30 workers out of 189, and only 40 canvassing days of a possible 600.

Practically every canvasser agrees that there are almost no refusals, and that evidently "The Greatest Mother of Them All" is very dear to the heart of Oneonta. Few reports are in from the business section and large centers such as the railroad offices, and unquestionably these reports will swell the total to a large extent.

CHURCHES DINNER

ATTENDED BY MORE THAN FORTY FIVE MEMBERS AND GUESTS

Appeals for the Nation Wide Movement Made by Rev. L. C. Denney,
Rev. Frederick T. Sherman and Rev.
J. E. Springfield—Executive Minister Served by Ladies of St. James —Dinner to Be Annual Event.

Rectors and laymen in large numbers from the various churches of the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna were in attendance at the Churchmen's dinner held at St. James' parish house last evening at 6:30 o'clock. The dinner is the result of a suggestion made by Bishop Nelson at the recent diocesan convention at Albany and it is planned to make it an annual event. Certainly is it that if they prove as enjoyable and profitable as that of last evening, they will be attended by constantly increasing numbers.

Delegations were present from the churches at Unadilla, Walton, Sidney, Dryfield, Springfield, Franklin, Morris, Lake Delaware, Gilbertsville, Oneonta, Otego, Cooperstown, Schenectady and Springfield Center, the number seated being about 125. The ladies of St. James' outdid themselves in the dinner served and all voted it a most delicious feast. In fact when the time came for the silver offering a token to the ladies there was a veritable shower of dollar bills upon the plate.

Rev. Yale Lyon, the archdeacon, presided and after expressing his gratification at the large attendance and evident interest, he declared that he would heed the admonition of the Bishop and be heard but briefly.

Emphasizing that the church is not the Kingdom of God, but rather the executive committee to which is entrusted the work of the Kingdom.

Rev. L. C. Denney, rector of St. James, the first speaker, appealed to his hearers in an inspiring manner that they get into the work and make possible the coming of the Kingdom.

Stress was laid upon the needs of the Nation Wide movement of the church by Frederick T. Sherman of Unadilla and the obligation that rests upon each individual church and each individual of each church.

He said that if the campaign is to be the success desired and needed, that each parish must contribute at least 26 per cent of the parish's expenses for the past year for this work in addition to the sums contributed in the pact.

At Unadilla he said each member is being asked to give this 26 per cent additional to his or her previous contribution for the parish work.

However he wished it understood that the question is one for each individual to settle and that doubtless some whose income in cash is limited may be unable to do this and others able must do more than this.

Rev. J. E. Springfield of Richfield

Springs was the third and last speaker.

Hon. Allen J. Bloomfield not having returned from Florida.

Mr. Springfield also spoke of the Nation Wide campaign and he made a strong and eloquent appeal for hearty support of this work of the church. He said that the records show that the average contribution of the laymen last year was 3 1/2 cents per week for this mission work and that if it is to attain its purpose that this must be increased to about 6 1/2 cents per week.

He said that we must not be sordid in this matter and that this is but a pittance sum for the work of the kingdom.

Rev. E. E. Hutchinson of Morris, by designation by the bishop, voiced the appreciation of the diocese and of those present to the ladies of St. James.

Between the courses hymns and community songs were sung, with James Keston Jr. leading. After adjournment Rector Denney extended an invitation in behalf of St. James' church to hold the annual Churchmen's dinner with the Oneonta parish.

The committee on permanent diners is composed of the following:

Archdeacon Yale Lyon, of Unadilla; Rev. L. C. Denney, of Oneonta; Rev. J. E. Springfield, Richfield Springs; H. J. Godfrey, Sidney; Harris L. Cooke, Cooperstown; and Judge L. F. Raymond, Franklin.

Approximately one-quarter of the minimum necessary amount required was reported in the second day of the Red Cross roll call. Just 518 members have joined for the new year and the total amount is $1,062.75, of which $259 goes to national headquarters and $803.75 is for use in all the activities of the local chapter. The number of canvassers reporting yesterday was about the same as on the previous day, 29, the membership slightly less in number but the total amount approximately the same. ## Wants Equal Golf Suffrage

Miriam Burns, champion of Kansas City, and one of the best women golfers in the country, has launched a campaign for equal suffrage on the links. Miss Burns objects to the man-made golf regulations which keep women players off the links on Sundays and holidays. She wants all the golf clubs to permit women players the use of the course every day.

OWN SONS OR BORROWED

Kiwanis Club Entertains Younger Generation at Luncheon Yesterday.

Father and Son day was observed at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club yesterday. Nearly all of the Kiwanians present had as guests their own or borrowed sons and the good fellowship was heartily enjoyed by both generations. Clyde Bresen was song leader for the day and several old favorite songs were resurrected for the occasion.

An expression of the low gfit because of the death of Edward M. Ronan was given by President O. C. Becker and resolutions of respect drawn by a committee were adopted.

Edward Crispen spoke for the fathers, telling the sons things they should know about Dad. He told of the trials and perplexities common to all fathers and said behind the "poker" face were emotions unsuspected by their sons. He told the boys should all realize that they can at all times go to their fathers with their perplexities and should feel that they are Axel Pernau spoke for the sons and said the fathers should use every effort to the end that their boys have good health, good homes and good jobs. He urged that the boys be kept in school and get the proper education to fill their places in life and they should be helped to develop physically, mentally and morally.

Jay Swackhamer also spoke for the sons. He said that every boy likes to know that his father is a regular fellow. In boyhood he looks to his father as the standard of manhood and the father should be worthy to be so considered as the boy advances into youth and manhood. A man cannot be a good father unless he is also a good citizen. The boy likes to know why his father's rulings are made and expects a square deal. He wants him to be more than a dad he wants him to be a chum.

No one present, boy or man, could help feeling more in sympathy with the other generation and more hopeful for closer cooperation and fellowship in the future.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Ready and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap, and it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, quickly stopping an ordinary cough in a few moments.

Get 2½ cups of Finch from any hardware store, pour it into a pint bottle and add white granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use dried molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—busting you and ridding the phlegm, mucus and boils the membranes, and gradually but surely the aching throat, ticks and bronchitis disappears. Nothing better for bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, bronchitis, or bronchial asthma.

Finch is a special and highly concentrated compound of various herbs that are used, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Great disappointment by taking your prescription for 2½ cups of Finch with full directions and don't expect anything. Recommended to give absolute satisfaction, or money, promptly refunded.

Fruit.

Tampa, Fla.—With the largest grapefruit and orange crop in history forecast by the United States Department of Agriculture, Florida grove owners are completing plans to provide northern families with better and cheaper fruit this winter.

A caravan of growers in this highly productive region supports the contention of the Florida Citrus Exchange officials that really effective co-operative marketing has been made possible this season by expansion of the organization to include nearly 70 per cent of the state's grove owners.

Retail prices of Florida oranges and grapefruit were lowered little, if any, in northern states last season, despite the fact that the growers were getting the lowest prices in history for their crop. Only 10 per cent of the growers were involved in the exchange membership and competition among the independent enabled brokers to beat down prices. In a great many cases fruit was sold at a considerable loss in order to bring the grower some cash return.

According to department of agriculture figures last year's Florida orange crop of 18,400,000 boxes will be exceeded by 1,000,000 boxes this winter.

The grapefruit forecast is for 8,000,000 boxes—a 600,000 increase over 1923.

The Florida grove owners are determined that this record crop shall move to the tables of northern cities through the most economical channels.

High standards of quality are being imposed upon growers and packers and the use of a trade marked name is permitted upon fruit that comes up to the requirements. Newspaper advertising will be utilized to show housewives and retailers how they can get the most quality for their money by care in the selection of fruit.

President L. C. Edwards of the exchange is completing plans whereby a portion of the big crop will be shipped to central markets by steamers and barges to decrease the possibility of railway congestion at the height of the season. This form of transportation is expected to assist materially in keeping down retail prices.

This is one of those questions which consist simply of two sides; there is neither time nor space for any other quantities. One finds one side, and then one finds the other, and there is nothing else—no middle ground, no "jackets." Six of one and half a dozen of the other are good figures to represent the two camps.

Different World.

First of all, men who go down to the sea in ships feel that theirs is a different world from that of the land-lubbers. Undoubtedly there is something to be said on that score. There is wet, ours is dry in more ways than one; they tell time by bells, while we look at a clock; they go topside and below when we go up and down stairs; they steer by starboard and port (everywhere except in the navy), whereas right and left tells direction to us. Truly one must be a sailor to know what is going on aboard ship. And chief among these differences of life at sea and life on land has been the rocking of a day.

Now at sea, where there are no street signs or time "ads" to guide one, the way you tell where you are is to say a sum in mathematics, looking the while to see if the sun is crossing the meridian, as it should do when it is noon. Obviously, in this changing world the sun is a pretty stable thing to rely on; except for Joshua, nobody has been able to influence it materially.

So after the mariners have made sure that the sun is running on schedule they can figure where they are and what time it ought to be—say, 12.

Compared with the references that can be made at midnight, this is much more logical. Comets and meteors and similar wanderers may distract stars, so it is better to rely on the sun. But you can't see the sun at midnight—so there's the rub. For all these centuries, since the Phoenician astronomers first gained influence over the captains and galley-boys of ancient times, day has begun at noon on board ship, not at midnight. And now certain governments have ordered the change to go into effect this coming January.

Means Much Work.

"It will mean a great deal of work and a lot of changing of tables and mathematical calculations," said Captain Hartley of the Leviathan. "All the men who have learned their navigation by the old rule will have to unlearn that and learn the new." He laughed a sanguine laugh and added: "Some fellow will figure that he has his ship just off Chicago."

"As for making the ships conform to land time, that would require a lot of changes. We have Eastern standard time, daylight saving time, Greenwich time and various others. It would be great if all the times were made to conform—as they ought to, by the way."

England is considered to be the country which sets the pace in things maritime. She, together with France, Germany, Spain and Italy, decided that the change would be a good thing. Then the United States followed suit and changed the national standard, despite protests from some of the old shellbacks to whom the change was abominable. Many of the captains, however, are not disturbed by the new order.

"Errors in dates have been made in the past because of the old methods, and it's reasonable to assume that after we become accustomed to the new, such errors will not occur," said the.
